

Facility Services

C&W Services is the sister company of Cushman & Wakefield, a leading global real estate services firm that helps clients transform the way people work, shop and live.

As a facility service leader, C&W Services maintains healthy and productive facilities by focusing on efficiency, reliability and business priorities. We know the employee productivity is directly influenced by the cleanliness, comfort and security of the facilities in which they work.

C&W Services provides clients with tactical solutions to meet their workplace goals. Our facility services offerings can be delivered as single or multiple services, or as part of an integrated facilities management structure.

We offer a service delivery model that aligns with clients' goals and cutting-edge technology that optimizes quality, speed and operating costs. C&W Services self-delivers more than 50 percent of the contract value to reduce cost and save time. We offer consistently high-quality service from professionals with the experience, training and credentials to keep facilities running smoothly. From the largest and most complex facilities to the smallest, clients can expect the same high level of responsive and innovative service.

C&W Services works with more than 600 clients across North America totaling 600 million square feet.
